FACULTY

LEARNING OBJECTIVES

New York, NY

At the end of this session, participants will be able to:

- Describe the evolution of treatments for exudative ARMD.
- Discuss the current evidence for switching agents in the treatment of wet ARMD and non-responders.
- Assess the evidence regarding a possible association between intravitreal anti-VEGF therapy and macular atrophy in neovascular ARMD.
- Identify the evolving role of OCT-angiography in the management of neovascular ARMD.

Light snacks and refreshments will be served

ACCREDITATION STATEMENT This event is an Accredited Group Learning Activity (Section 1) as defined by the Maintenance of Certification program of The Royal College of Physicians and Surgeons of Canada and approved by the Canadian Ophthalmological Society. Physicians may claim a maximum of one (1) Section 1 credit. Through an agreement between the Royal College of Physicians and Surgeons of Canada and the American Medical Association (AMA), physicians may convert Royal College MOC credits for AMA PRA Category 1 creditsTM. Information on the process to convert Royal College MOC credit to AMA credit can be found at http://www.ama-assn.org "Earning credit for participation in international activities".

Physicians should only claim credits commensurate with the extent of their participation in the activity.

This symposium was co-developed with Bayer and was planned to achieve scientific integrity, objectivity and balance.
